Every acute crisis but emphasizes our fidelity to the public

No impending crisis need cause our patrons any anxiety so far as food-stuff costs are concerned. This is one institution that fully realizes its obligation to the public, and believes that no business house with a proper conception of its mission will attempt to take the slightest advantage of the public in times of stress.

The tempting aroma of good coffee lures you to a satisfactory breakfast that would prove otherwise if an indifferent quality of coffee were served. For no other one article at the breakfast table has such an important part in helping you off to a good start. We selected Golden Glow as our leading brand of coffee, because we were satisfied that it would give more universal satisfaction than any other now on the market. If you have never tried this excellent coffee, you are missing something that will please every member of the family. So satisfied are we that you will be delighted with Golden Glow that we are willing for you to try a pound at our risk. If it is not in every way up to your expectations, simply bring back the empty can and have your money refunded. Golden Glow Coffee, packed in tin, lb. 35c

WHITEHALL STORE ENTERED AT NIGHT; NEGRO ARRESTED

Burglars who entered the store of C. M. Ford, who operates a restaurant at 55 Whitehall street, late Friday night, secured $40 from the cash register, several dollars from the gas slot meter, a number of boxes of cigars, about 20 pounds of meat and other things. The cash-register had been entered by cutting through a screen in a rear window.

Immediately following discovery of the burglary, shortly after 11 o'clock, Mr. Ford, a negro employee of the store, Joseph Sims, who lives in the rear of the place, was arrested by Call Officers Good and Evans, and held at police headquarters under a blanket charge of suspicion in connection with the burglary.

AMERICAN MOVIES RAPPED BY CHAPLIN

and the knowledge that this terrible bout with popularity is bound to end Sunday when he returns to Los Angeles and his job. In London, Paris and Berlin he stretched his little hide over banquets enough to revive Russia, and Charlie isn't a starving province after all but just one man.

European critics told Chaplin, and he agrees with them almost all the way, that American scenarios and consequently the acting, are too obvious, too frank, as subtle as a city detective, evading the realities of life, always tossing on the emotional high-C's. Perhaps, he said, this is due in large part to narrowness of American censorship, of which there are as many standards almost as there are American cities and towns. The censor in America tries to repress what is natural in life, and the result is that scenarios are written around life, exploiting a scheme of virtue that never did exist among any people and save: will utilize nature gives way to legislation in motivating mankind and its associates.

U. S. Standard of Morals.

"We need a broadminded censorship that looks at life as it is and human beings as they are," Chaplin began to say, and someone murmured, "try and get it." He got back the floor, however, and went on to relieve himself of those few little compliments to the American standard of morals which forbids deference to motherhood under one regime, although producers may get by with "problem stuff" solved with the gun.

"Whenever I tried something in one of my pictures, just to please myself," Chaplin said, "I also found that it pleased the audience."

"I am not going to quit comedy—that is, not wittingly—but I think I shall try something serious to see whether I can do it well. Serious acting is not necessarily any more artistic than comedy, and I am back at the old stand unless the scenario requires some other character."

Chaplin behaves surprisingly well at table. Of course, the Exhibitors First National circuit which gave the luncheon did not risk what he might do with spaghetti, or a hot dog, but there was ice cream, and he didn't drop it down anyone's collar, and when they passed him the sugar bowl he didn't empty it into his coffee, which shows you can't judge the private lives of movie people by what they do on the screen. No air-

HARDWICK WILL ANSWER ATTACK

Governor Will Discuss Assault on Administration Made by Senator Watson in Sentinel.

Governor Thomas W. Hardwick telephoned from McRae, Ga., Friday night that he will be in his office Saturday morning and at that time will discuss the sensational attack on his administration made by his former political ally, United States Senator Thomas E. Watson, in this week's issue of The Columbia Sentinel, Senator Watson's newspaper. The governor was filling a speaking engagement at McRae and said he would not discuss the case until after his arrival at his office in the capitol at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Senator Watson's attack on the present administration in which he charged that it had not kept one of the campaign promises, with which "the people literally had been stuffed." The senator charged also that the administration had "appointed enemies of Watson to office." No mention was made of the name of Governor Hardwick in the article, the attack being on "the administration."

In his statement Senator Watson discussed the record of the legislature, the passage of a bill providing for the sale of Western and Atlantic deferred warrants and made other charges against the Hardwick administration. He referred also to several state officials and former officials in his charges.

Watson's Attack.
The title of Senator Watson's editorial is, "What's the Matter With Georgia?" In part it follows:
"Last year, our people were literally STUFFED with campaign promises."

"The legislature met; there was the most pompous inauguration of a new governor, and the freshly chosen administration settled down to settling down."

"What campaign pledge was kept?"

"NOT ONE!"
"We are told that the state hasn't the money to pay for free textbooks, but you must have noticed that such mere official deadbeats as Lucian Lamar Knight, continues to hold the office of keeper of the archives, at an expense to you of about $8,000 a year, while he himself seems to be getting no better than a new broom."

"We succeeded, and now you can see that we did you a good turn in keeping Claude West in your pocket. The new broom had a fine chance to sweep out the tax assessors, who have been CONFISCATING your property."

People Not Consulted.
"Did the new broom make a clean sweep of these confiscators who virtually fix their own salaries, and who meekly obey the despotic orders of Henry Fulbright?"

"DID NOT!"
"The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce hatched that confiscatory tax behind closed doors, and the lobbyists rushed it through the legislature."

"The people were never consulted; the people were treated with silk-hat contempt—by whom?"

"By the men who do their own taxes, and shift them on to you."

"We are told that Governor Hardwick and Dorsey got the state into debt, and that something desperate had to be done."

"Then, why not compel invisible millions to come before the law, and pay their just share of the state's expenses?"

"Why add to the state's load of deficit by employing Hoke Smith, when we have a better lawyer in the attorney-general?"

"Why give the bankers a half million dollar rake off, in the discounting of unmaturing rent notes of the Western and Atlantic railroad?"

System Faulty.
"Can a man get rid of old debts by contracting new ones?"

"Can the state become solvent by sacrificing her best property, maintaining 800 unnecessary officeholders and increasing her taxes?"

"At present, I make no complaint of the fact, that every important appointment has been given to enemies of mine."

"If my friends are not competent to hold these offices, they should not be recognized."

"Last year, my friends seemed to be worthy of trust."

"A sudden blight seems to have stricken them."

"They have been frost-bitten, and they have wilted."

"That's all right; we can look to that later."

"I am forced to say, that the covert influences which paralyzed the legislature, this year, could not have been anticipated by any honest voter who listened to the promises, made a year ago."

Listen, Girls!

Are your feet beautiful, and would you care to let us use them to demonstrate the wonderful style and comfort of our famous Queen Quality Osteo-Tarsal shoes?

Mr. Jos. Pietzuch, National Expert, will be in Atlanta all of next week, demonstrating these shoes in our Main Shoe Department, and he desires to use several living models, with feet sizes 3 to 5, A or B.

Therefore, call today, Saturday, and talk to Mr. Peitzuch (pronounced Pitsyou) in person, who will explain to you in a delightful way the possibilities of a perfect foot.

Smith Employed.
"You also notice that Hoke Smith's law firm has been employed to convince the supreme court that your state railroad should be by piece-meal, delivered to the Louisville, Nashville robbers and MURDERERS."

"What is the use of having an attorney-general for the state if he is to be sidetracked for Hoke Smith?"

"What's the use of having so able a lawyer as Judge Smith to your pay if he must be shunted out of the way of a big fee for the re-elected Smith?"

"We were promised, over and over again, a clean sweep."

"A new broom was prominent at the Macon convention, where those pledges were repeated, a scant twelve months ago."

"What has been done with that new broom?"

Sees Claude West.
"Claude West was kept in the state's pay, and, as it now appears from the newspapers, he kept on robbing you."

"He wanted to be secretary of state and a member of the agricultural department tried to put him on you, as custodian of the motor vehicle fund of more than a million dollars."

"Hon. S. G. McLendon did not realize his danger, but his lifelong friend did, and the utmost efforts of myself, Mrs. Lytle and Grover Edmundson were made to keep him in your employ a faithful public servant."

"We succeeded, and now you can see that we did you a good turn in keeping Claude West in your pocket. The new broom had a fine chance to sweep out the tax assessors, who have been CONFISCATING your property."

"They have been frost-bitten, and they have wilted."

"That's all right; we can look to that later."

"I am forced to say, that the covert influences which paralyzed the legislature, this year, could not have been anticipated by any honest voter who listened to the promises, made a year ago."

GREAT CROWDS HEAR NOTED EVANGELIST

Dr. Charles L. Goodell, the pastor-evangelist of New York city, preached to a congregation of young people last night one of the sermons of the series of meetings. Rev. B. F. Fraser, pastor of Wesley church, reports that this has been one of the best series of meetings in the history of Wesley church.

These sermons have made a lasting impression on the minds of the people and the audience of these sermons will be felt in the years to come.

There have been several additions to the church, some on profession of faith and some by certificates.

Goodell will preach three times Sunday. His theme at 11 a. m. will be "The Greatest Story in the World;" he will preach to men only at 3 p. m., using as his theme "What Are You Worth?" He will also preach at 7:30 at night, which will close the series of sermons.

MRS. HARRALSON RESTS IN OAKLAND CEMETERY

Funeral services for Mrs. Louise Oscar Harralson, mother of Miss Kate Lee Harralson, supervisor of music in Atlanta public schools, who died suddenly Wednesday morning, were conducted in the First Methodist church Friday morning. Interment followed in Oakland cemetery. Mrs. Harralson was 73 years of age.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Harralson is survived by two other daughters, Mrs. E. Fritchett and Mrs. J. W. Walker, and three sons, Edward, Joseph and Louis Harralson.

MISS KEMPTON URGED FOR THE LEGISLATURE

Miss Bessie Kempton, newspaper woman, mentioned Friday as a probable candidate for the legislature from Fulton county, in the state primary of 1922, stated that friends have urged her to accept, but she is not yet prepared to make a definite decision.

There were rumors also that John Y. Smith, former representative from Fulton, would become a candidate again, and that J. Cheney Robinson, secretary of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, would enter the field.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PARTY GIVEN AT ST. LUKE'S

The pupils of the Sunday school, St. Luke's Episcopal church, were entertained at the parish house, 413 Courtland street, by the officers and teachers of the school, Friday.

The children in the beginners and primary departments were invited from 3 to 4 o'clock; the juniors from 4 to 5:30, and the intermediates and seniors from 5 to 10:30 o'clock.

Radcliffe Memorial.
At Radcliffe Memorial Presbyterian church Sunday, a union service will be held, and the pastor, Rev. S. D. Thom, will sermoneize on "Dynamics." At 11 a. m., "Answered prayer and bearer of the cross," 3 p. m., "Dynamics."

HAGER NOMINATION MAY BE HELD UP

BY JAMES A. HOLLOWAY

Constitution Leased Wire. Raleigh Hotel.

Washington, October 21.—(By Constitution Leased Wire.)—It now appears that confirmation of the nomination of Clifton W. Hager, of Atlanta, for district attorney, may be held up until after a hearing on protests filed in the senate today touching his voting as well as professional experience.

These protests allege that Mr. Hager is not a registered voter of Georgia, or was not in 1920, he having held a legal residence in Tennessee, and that he has had but little experience as a trial lawyer.

It is alleged that Mr. Hager, in his services in a law office having been employed chiefly, according to the protests, as an abstractor of titles.

It is also alleged that in one case in which the newly appointed district attorney did act as an attorney in a case was in the effort to enjoin the city of East Point from paying a sum of money to an alleged paving contractor and that the injunction was erroneously drawn.

It is alleged that Mr. Hager is not in thorough sympathy with the new party organization in Georgia, having been slacker for the position he secured through the influence of Fred W. Upton, treasurer of the republican national committee, several months prior to the Georgia republican reorganization, but it is also understood that the Phillips committee, as a unit, or through individual members is not in any way responsible for the protests against confirmation that have reached the senate.

"CYCLONE MACK" SCORES CHURCH "FOUR-FLUSHERS"

In a heart-to-heart talk with members of the Tabernacle Baptist church, "Cyclone Mack" McLendon, with powerful fervor, charged that the reason why the church is not taking the world today is because too many of the church are carrying "excess baggage."

Speaking quietly and directly to the vast congregation, "Cyclone Mack" played without mercy "the four-flushers" in the churches.

"What every church in this town ought to do is to tear up the church records and start all over again," he said.

The evangelist delivered one of the most impressive sermons yet delivered in his present campaign. He did not resort much to gymnastics and acrobatics, but spoke plain words which he said he meant particularly for church members. He took for his subject "The Beatitudes."

POLICE HELP MOTHER IN SEARCH FOR SON

Chief of Police James L. Beavers Friday received a letter from Mrs. K. Thompson, of Portland, Ore., asking that efforts be made by the local police department in locating her son, Oliver S. Thompson, who is believed to be mentally deranged and somewhere in Georgia.

The aged mother said her son is a former sailor and was shipwrecked off the Margarita Islands, after which he drifted for many hours before being rescued.

WOMAN GRILLED IN $150,000 SUIT

Both sides in the $150,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Catherine Bristol against John Kelley for the loss of her sight as the result of an alleged alcohol poison, will have a chance to rest until Monday following adjournment of the case Friday afternoon in Judge W. D. Ellis' court.

Mrs. Bristol broke down under the cross-examination of Reuben R. Arnold, of counsel for the defense, and Judge Ellis adjourned court for twenty minutes while the defendant retained her composure.

The session Friday was marked by sharp tilts between Attorney Arnold and Attorney E. C. Buchanan, opposing counsel.

Becomes Hysterical.

Under the fire of questions from Attorney Arnold Mrs. Bristol became hysterical and declared that "all the things that they are saying about me are lies."

Attorney Buchanan sprang to her side and gave her a drink of water. After a few interruptions, Mr. Arnold attempted to go on with the cross-examination, but Mrs. Bristol's replies were not intelligible, due to her condition. Judge Ellis then adjourned court and Mrs. Bristol was assisted from the stand by her maid, who sits in constant attendance at her side.

At the end of the recess Mrs. Bristol took the stand again and answered Mr. Arnold's questions. She told the same story on cross-examination that she related on direct testimony. She declared that Kelley gave her a drink of brandy, which caused her to lose her eyesight.

Takes Drink of Brandy.

"I was highly nervous, and after talking a while, Mr. Kelley suggested that I take a drink of brandy," she said. Lucile brought it back with her from New York.

"Ollie Osman, a Turk, who had been staying with Mr. Kelley and Lucile Sharp, came to the apartment about 1 o'clock. He was there when I took the first drink of the stuff. I later went to bed, but could not sleep. I got up and went into the dining room. Ollie came in and we sat up until morning taking about four drinks in the meantime."

"I did not feel the effects of the poison until the next day, when I was turning from the undertaker's, where I had seen the body of Lucile. Then I was taken violently ill and Mr. Kelley called in two physicians who recommended that I be sent to a hospital."

"I remained at the hospital a week in an unconscious condition and when I came to, the world was dark to me."

In outlining his case before the jury, Mr. Buchanan stated that the plaintiff would attempt to prove that Mrs. Bristol's blindness was caused by a drink of brandy furnished her by Mr. Kelley. He also stated that he would show that Lucile Sharp's death was caused from drinking some of the same liquor that was given to Mrs. Bristol.

Mr. Arnold, in outlining the case of the defense, stated that he would attempt to prove that the "brandy" was not the property of Mr. Kelley and that he had nothing to do with the plaintiff taking a drink of it.

The alleged poisoning is said to have occurred in Baltimore November 22, 1919. Kelley was acquitted in Baltimore of a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Sharp, and criminal action brought by Mrs. Bristol against him was also dismissed.

Mrs. Bristol is represented by Attorney E. C. Buchanan and J. K. Jordan, while Mr. Kelley is represented by Attorney Reuben Arnold and the law firm of Bell & Ellis.

THREE CONVENTIONS TO MEET IN ATLANTA

Atlanta will be the scene of three evangelical conventions today and tomorrow. The Billy Sunday Men's club, the Gypsy Smith Jr. club and the Business Men's Evangelical club have arranged to meet here on those dates, and about 200 prominent citizens of Georgia, South and North Carolina are expected to attend.

The conventions will be held in the Y. M. C. A. building on Luckie street, and business and entertainment programs have been arranged by the bureau to last two days. Marvin L. Thresher, of Atlanta, president of the Billy Sunday Business Men's club, will preside at the joint convention of the three bodies.

WAR DEAD ARRIVE BANK DIRECTORS AT TERMINAL HERE; GO TO SAVANNAH TO HOLD MEETING

Bound for a directors meeting in Savannah on the invitation of Mills B. Lane, several officers and directors of the Federal International Banking company, of New Orleans, left Atlanta Friday night for the Georgia coast city. In the delegation was Archibald Kains, president of this large institution, who told Friday the work the bank is doing in the interest of the southern farmer.

In the party were Rudolph S. Hecht, president of the Hibernia Bank and Trust company, of New Orleans; Morehead W. Wright, president of the Union and Mercantile Trust company, of Little Rock, Ark.; S. J. High, president of the Peoples Bank and Trust company, of Tunica, Miss.; and Vice President Caldwell, of the Federal International Banking company.

Mr. Kains, in speaking of the work of the institution, said: "The bank now renders a great service to the south and it is now financing exports to the extent of $7,000,000. It has also many applications for other loans which will soon be approved."

The party of directors and officers was entertained at dinner Friday, the dinner being attended by representatives of all Atlanta banks. The dinner was given by Robert F. Maddox and John K. Otley, local directors of the corporation. Haynes McFadden, secretary of the bank, and Hollins Randolph, general counsel, both of Atlanta, accompanied the party to Savannah.

The Federal International Banking company was the second bank in the United States organized under the Edge act, to aid in bettering financial conditions among southern farmers by providing a market for their exports.

J. W. SHELL, JR., SOUGHT BY ANXIOUS MOTHER

The Constitution's aid has been sought in locating J. W. Shell, Jr., who left his home in Reynolds, about a week ago, to attend the Southeastern fair. Friday afternoon the mother, accompanied with Governor Hardwick's office, asking aid in finding her son. A canvass was made of a number of the city hotels, and the police notified, but no trace of the young man were found Friday. The case is being investigated by W. E. Vance, warrant clerk at the capitol.

TEXAS OFFICERS GET FIRST CLAIM ON RENO HAMLIN

W. Reno, alias "Reno" Hamlin, alias "Specks," who was arrested in Oklahoma City, Okla. Thursday, was turned over to officers from Fort Worth, Texas, and Solicitor-General John A. Boykin was notified of this fact Friday in time to stop the officer from Atlanta, who was on his way to bring Hamlin back to Atlanta.

Hamlin, who had been indicted secretly several months ago, was re-indicted by the grand jury Friday on charge of having killed N. L. Davis, of Indiana, out of $5,000.

Off rs from Texas stated Hamlin is wanted in Fort Worth for an alleged bunco scheme in which he collected $40,000. According to information in the hands of Solicitor Boykin, Hamlin was in partnership with Joe Furey, who was caught in Jacksonville, Fla., last December, and broke his leg when he jumped from a train. He was convicted for wire-tapping and given twenty years. The other man implicated with these two committed suicide in jail at Washington, D. C.

Solicitor Boykin stated that he will file a complaint with the Texas authorities and, when Hamlin has completed his sentence in Texas, will ask that he be brought back to Atlanta to stand trial on two indictments now pending.

GORDON WINS OVER MONROE

Barnesville, Ga., October 21.—(Special.)—In the most stubbornly fought game ever played in Barnesville, Gordon defeated Monroe 4 to 0. The teams were evenly matched, both being strong on offense and rather weak in defense. It was anybody's game until the end, with four minutes to play and the score 4 to 0. Gordon, picked up a Monroe fumble and raced 20 yards for a touchdown.

For Monroe the playing of Barron in the backfield was its decided feature. He and Hancock worked well on forward passes, one of these resulting in a touchdown. Guthrie, at full, also showed up well in the line; the playing of Harlowe, Sutherland and Sutherland back of Gordon's offense. Cox, at end, also diagnosed the play well and deserves special mention for his recovery of the fumble.

WOUNDS HURT B. H. S. TODAY

BY ARNOLD NISSENBAUM.
The Boys' High "Purple Hurricane" wound up preparations for their game with Riverside Military academy on Saturday afternoon with a brief scrimmage and signal drill. The Purple Hurricane will be minus the services of six of its varsity players when the teams line up for the kickoff. Foremost among those injured on the list is ex-Captain Clyde Wallace, who has been the most consistent ground gainer on the team this season. Another very distressing case is that of McIntyre, guard.

The Riverside team arrived last night and were immediately taken to the hotel where they pitched camp for the night. Riverside has not played any of the G. A. A. teams and depends largely on its own strength to overcome the handicap of Rutgers weight and reputation for a dangerous aerial attack.

Vanderbilt is facing a hard contest in its game with the Texas team, scheduled for Saturday afternoon. Vanderbilt has its best team in years, should give Alabama a real battle, and the game is expected to be a close one.

Miss Eva Mae Smith, Graduate of the Southern Shorthand and Business University, says it requires a good system and a thorough business training to hold a responsible position with a big law firm.

This is no time for procrastination. Next week, between the 24th and 31st instant, quite a number of young people will enter the Southern Business College to begin a business course. They, as well as many who have already enrolled and are now busy in their studies, realize the great importance of early preparation. They see the graduates going out every day into good positions and are eager to be in the same do likewise.

Several of the Southern's pupils have just been placed. These placements are requested to all and are a list of the firms employing them.

Miss Eva Mae Smith has secured a splendid position with an important law firm. She writes that it requires a dependable system of Shorthand and a thorough business training to hold such a place, but her "letter," which is presented below, tells the story of success of one who put forth the effort and points the way to others who are ambitious.

Cartersville, Ga., October 20, 1921.
"Southern Shorthand and Business University, Atlanta, Ga."
"Gentlemen,"

"I am making good with an important law firm, that of J. R. Whitaker, Cartersville, Georgia. You'll find it necessary in order to fill a position with a big law firm, because the system is technical. First, a rapid and dependable system of shorthand; and second, a thorough business training. I was taught the Graham-Pittman Shorthand, the system used by the expert shorthand writers all over the world; and, as a pupil in the Southern Shorthand and Business University, I had the most able, conscientious and painstaking instructors, including teachers, A. C. Briccio and L. W. Arnold, the long experienced and well known reporters and teachers of the Southern. These men are assisted by four other competent shorthand teachers, making this school a place to learn in this part of the country."

"I take dictation from different men—legal and various other matters. I am certainly glad that I attended the Southern. I thank you for your kindness and wishing for you the same unbounded success. I remain,

"Yours very respectfully,"
"MISS EVA MAE SMITH."
The Southern Business College is the school that teaches Pittman Shorthand, the system used by over 91 per cent of all the court reporters in the United States. By the way, the Southern is the only school in the South that teaches the House and Senate of the United States Congress. By all the court reporters in the City of Atlanta. In the N. S. R. Association Contest at Niagara Falls, Miss Smith was the easiest to learn, easiest to write and the easiest to read.

Gregg, shorthand is also taught at the Southern. Call, phone or write for catalog. Attend the school that shows results. Ask Atlanta's business men to recommend a good school and result. Day and Night classes. Address A. C. Briccio, Pres., or L. W. Arnold, V. Pres., 11 Whitehall Street, Atlanta, Ga. (adv.)

VANDERBILT TIGERS PLAY TEXAS 'BAMA TODAY

Austin, Texas, October 21.—(Special.)—Texas university is not advancing any conclusions toward the outcome of Saturday's game at Dallas with Vanderbilt, but the Longhorns guardians nevertheless feel that the old Orange and White should come out at the long end of the deal at the state fair. Scouts at all of the Vanderbilt games have made the locals begin to feel somewhat confident as to the outcome of Saturday's clash. But, nevertheless, the varsity is going to Dallas fully prepared to play the stiffest game of its season.

From all indications, it promises to be a hectic struggle, and one on which the fans can gather a little dose on how Sandy Beavers' team will stack up against the leaders of the G. A. A.

Interschool games again will be a feature of Saturday with Rutgers, which bested Washington and lost to the Purple Hurricane, meeting Georgia Tech in Atlanta. Vanderbilt is expected to play against Texas university in Dallas.

PENN STATE VS. HARVARD

State College, Pa., October 21.—With the cheers of the entire student body ringing in their ears and with the cadet band of over 100 pieces playing "Victory" the Penn State football squad took its departure for Harvard yesterday.

There were about twenty-eight in the party, including coaches, players and managers. The Nittany aggregation arrived in Boston early Friday morning and went directly to a country club just outside of the city, where they will remain until just before game time Saturday.

Although Captain George Shell, the Penn State fullback, could not make the trip because of an abscessed throat that is still keeping him in the college infirmary, he was not forgotten in the cheering tonight, and the other members of the team left here with the firm determination to play just a little bit better than they know how for the sake of their leader.

The number of students also left this evening to form a sporting section in the stadium.

The party that left here was composed of Coach Hugo Boeckel, Trainer Bill Martin, Graduate Manager Neil Fleming, Student Managers L. M. Foss, M. J. Andrews and the following players: Ends, Hafford, McCollum, Smoizinski and Frank; tackles, McMahon, Mader, Hills and Crowther; guards, Baker and Logue; centers, Smith and Hamilton; quarterbacks, Kilbaker and Ritter; halfbacks, Lafferty, Redinger, Cornwall and Wilcox; fullbacks, Hess and Knab.

No Money for Speculation—Millions to Move Cotton

Resources
Over
Millions

DESPITE the financial stringency, the resources of the CITIZENS and SOUTHERN BANK have been so carefully distributed that they have served to help thousands of Southern business men over the hard times, and still have plenty with which to finance the marketing of a considerable portion of Georgia's Cotton Crop.

Commencing with Saturday, September 24th, we loaned for eleven consecutive business days more than a MILLION DOLLARS EACH DAY, or $14,262,323.77, to be exact, to Cotton Merchants, who immediately paid the money out to Southern farmers in payment for cotton which they had raised and upon which they depended for ready money.

The cotton purchased with this money was for immediate re-sale, AND IS NOT BEING HELD FOR SPECULATION. The loans are all short-time, making this immense sum of money available for use again and again until every bale of Georgia cotton has been sold and started on its way to the mills for spinning and weaving.

:: New Palmer Building Formally Opened Today ::

The Palmer building, Atlanta's newest and from many points of view finest office building, will throw open its doors this morning to thousands of Atlantans and visitors from all parts of the south-east who have been invited to inspect this new and interesting addition to the city's already long list of splendid office buildings. Georgia products and Atlanta talent have entered very largely into making this structure one of the most modern buildings in the south, introducing as it does many new and exclusive features never before seen in this section.

Located at the corner of Marietta and Forsyth streets, the new Palmer building occupies what was once the site of the old Bijou theater, which for many years after its erection in 1872 was Atlanta's premier show house. Where once the divine Sarah and the Immortal Booth thrilled Atlantans of the past generation, this home of intensified present-day industry now graces one of the busiest corners of our downtown business section. Architecturally this new building adds greatly to the city's reputation for beautiful downtown structures. In an adaptation of the Colonial type, Burge, Stevens & Conklin, local architects, have sounded a new note for southern office building construction. Relieving the solid red brick effect with white mortar and a limestone trim, which is carried from the base of the building to the cornice, with limestone window sills and broad Colonial windows, the result is a bright and cheerful exterior of unusually pleasing appearance, with an exceptionally well lighted interior—an essential feature of the modern office.

Without sacrificing the artistic element in construction the plan of the building provides the absolute maximum of rentable area, over 82 per cent of the floor space being available for commercial use. This feature, together with the fact that the nature of the construction places the building on an A-1 basis, with the underwriters—thus securing the lowest insurance rate—adds lustre to the reputation of the architects who designed and superintended the carrying out of the work. While Georgia products were used wherever possible, the use of Georgia quarter-sawed red gum for the interior trim was something new to buildings of this kind in Atlanta, this material in mahogany finish making a most beautiful effect throughout. The use of this trim was suggested and furnished by the Cleveland-Oconee Lumber company.

The first contract which was for the erection of the shell of the building was given to the Foundation company on the 21st of February last and was completed June 21, or approximately 90 working days. The second contract, which consisted of the interior finishing of the building—such as heating, plumbing, electrical work, plastering, floor work, etc., was started June 21, and completed September 18, approximately 90 working days. The construction work was in charge of E. J. Biederman, superintendent, who had handled enormous contracts for the company. Their equipment on this job included the most up-to-date contractor's equipment obtainable. Interior views and further description of the building will be found on another page.

ASSASSINATED PERSON OUTBREAK

Lisbon, October 21.—Antonio Granjo, premier and minister of the interior, and Jose Carlos Maia, former minister of marine and colonies, were assassinated during the military outbreak here today. He was shot in the chest and killed. The government on Wednesday, which resulted in the setting up of a new administration, was overthrown. An official note from the junta, directing the national movement which placed the new government, stated that the assassination of these two public officials and the death of republicans. It is asserted that such acts of violence must be considered due to the enemies of the generous national government, which is declared elsewhere, that the junta, which is government without bloodshed. The note adds that those guilty should be delivered to justice.

L. G. DOUGHTERY DIES IN AUGUSTA

Augusta, Ga., October 21.—(Special.)—Lewis G. Doughtery, 57, who was one of the largest and most prominent cotton merchants, died here today. He had been ill three years and had been confined to his bed one year, the result of paralysis. His first wife, Miss Elizabeth Alexander, died many years ago. Fifteen years ago he married Mrs. Doughtery, who survives him. One daughter, Mrs. Gordon Doughtery, and one son, Mr. Doughtery, are in the city. His brothers and sisters are Dr. W. H. Doughtery, dean of the medical department of the University of Georgia; Mrs. William H. Doughtery, Mrs. Louis H. Doughtery, of Long Island, N. Y., and Mrs. James Doughtery, of New York.
